NEWS RELEASE

March 16, 2010

Fraser Edwards, C.E.O. of the Water School is pleased to announce the following staff appointments and changes in responsibilities. They will have a positive impact on the ability of the Water School to deliver our ever expanding programs of clean water for life to the marginalized children of the world.

The Water School focuses on changing the behaviour of individuals through education on proper health, sanitation and a simple and sustainable water purification system

Sandra Getuba

Sandra has joined the Water School team as Director of Development. Sandra has significant experience in communications, project management and fund development. Although she was raised in Kenya, she is now a Canadian citizen and lives in Edmonton AB. with her husband Sydney and their son Julian (4 yrs)

Jane Otai

Jane has accepted added responsibilities as Africa Area Director. She is now responsible for all aspects of program design, implementation and performance in Africa. Jane has been a strong advocate and supporter of The Water School since it began. She lives in Nairobi, Kenya with her husband Clement and their three children.

Zepha Mukalere

In addition to his responsibilities as Director of the Water School Uganda, Zepha will work with Jane in the position of Associate Africa Area Director. He and his team of 9 have built the Water School Uganda into a thriving organization. Over 200,000 are now using the program in Uganda and water born diseases have reduced dramatically. Zepha and his wife Becky live in Kampala, Uganda with their three children.
